Forecast of Congress.

Probable Program of Both the Senate and House.

THE PENSION APPROPRIATION.

It is liable to be disposed of during the week with several other important measures, while the silver question will be pushed through the House. Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The senate during the coming week will dispose of the land grant forfeiture bill, the pension appropriation bill and possibly the customs administration bill, known as the McKinley bill. The land grant forfeiture bill remains the unfinished business on the calendar and the intention is to take it up immediately at the conclusion of the morning business and proceed with its discussion until it is disposed of.

It is likely that the appropriations committee will attempt to sandwich the pension bill in between this measure and the McKinley bill. The appropriation bill has no place in the order of business, but the other business of the senate must give it right of way. It was thought at first that the McKinley bill would go through the senate without opposition in the form in which it came from the finance committee. There was no opposition to it in that committee, and there will be no Democratic opposition of importance on the floor of the senate. But opposition has developed in a new quarter, and it promises to delay by a day or two the passage of the bill.

Mr. Evans has announced his intention of offering some amendments to the bill as reported from the committee, the chief of which is a proposition that all final judgments, when in favor of the importer, shall be paid by the secretary of the treasury from the permanent and definite appropriations provided for in the bill. This proposed amendment does not meet with the sanction of the members of the committee, and its introduction is likely to lead to some debate.

It is the intention of the Republican leaders of the house to force the silver question to a conclusion, so far as the house is concerned, during the week. The compromise bill will be the measure brought forward. Two days will be devoted to its discussion, voting on its passage to take place immediately at the conclusion of the debate.

The Morrill service pension bill which recently failed to get a hearing under suspension of the rules, will be considered probably on Tuesday, and pushed to a conclusion before adjournment on that day. This bill was sanctioned by the Republican caucus on last Wednesday and the Republicans have virtually pledged themselves to its support.

An arrangement has been made by which one day in the week, probably Friday, will be set apart for the passage of public building bills. Monday will be devoted to matters concerning the District of Columbia. Mr. McKinley has stated that the tariff debate will not begin during the week, but he may bring forward the Dingley bill to increase the duties on worsted cloths. Mr. Henderson, of Illinois, would like to have the river and harbor bill called up for discussion, but it is probable that he will defer to the wishes of the Republican leaders in regard to the program for the week.

Rebellion Expenses.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The report submitted to the senate from the committee on military affairs on the bill to reimburse the state of California, Oregon and Nevada for money expended by them in the suppression of the rebellion shows that the total amount paid by California was $1,420,891; by Oregon $356,271, and by Nevada $404,010. Of the amount paid by California, $1,500,545 was interest and $408,976 was expended on account of militia. The committee recommends that these amounts be deducted from the total amount paid by California, leaving $2,741,269 to be refunded to that state. The committee also recommends that Oregon be paid $224,526. No deduction is made from the amount paid by Nevada.

Saturday's Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—In the senate Saturday the regular calendar was taken up. A joint resolution accepting the battle sword of the late Capt. S. C. Reid and presenting a medal to his son failed—26 to 12. No quorum voting it went over without prejudice by request. Several private bills were passed, and at 3:10 p. m. the senate adjourned.

In the house the legislative appropriation bill was considered all day and late into the night.

FLOOD IN TEXAS.

The Trinity River Far Out of Its Banks and Still Rising.

NEW ORLEANS, April 28.—The Times Democrat's Dallas, Tex., special says: The most destructive flood ever known in the history of North Texas is now passing through the Trinity. The great rain on Friday raised every tributary of it far out of their banks. Saturday and Sunday night it rose rapidly, and at 10 o'clock Sunday morning passed the highest water mark in fifty years. In front of this city it is two miles wide, extending to the foot of Flanders Height west, and to Oak Cliff south of the city. On the north all the residences from a hundred yards beyond Cochrane street are submerged, some to the second floor, and others to the attic. No one has been reported drowned.

All day yesterday and last night the people in the flooded districts have been moving to higher ground. Backwater extends far up to the north side of the city, while on the south, houses are submerged as far up as Ward street north. On the south, and in front of the city, there is one vast ocean thirty and forty feet deep, and at this hour it is still rising and will so continue until at least Tuesday. Its like has never been seen.

Trains on all the railroads, the Texas Pacific, the Missouri Pacific, the Santa Fe and the Greenville, are not running west, north or south of the city. Washouts are reported all along their lines, but the worst are immediately around the city. Gangs of men are watching the bridges over the Trinity river, and keeping off the drift. The crest of the waves lack six feet of the flooring of the bridges in the city, but the Santa Fe's Central below town are reported submerged. News from the surrounding country is bad. Small bridges have been destroyed by the deluge; indeed, few are left.

The destruction of crops will amount to little or nothing, for, as soon as the water goes down, they will grow again. The storm of Friday will be a memorable one. It extended from the Indian territory to the gulf, and from Marshall to Abilene. There was not a stream, however small or great, that was not raised high above the high water mark. At many points there were hurricanes of wind and one genuine cyclone. Many houses were blown down, but so far not a single life has been reported lost. To-day a norther is blowing, and fires are quite comfortable. To-morrow we look for several feet additional water in the Trinity, and we are thankful that it goes into the gulf direct and not down upon unfortunate Louisiana.

HAIL STORM IN BALTIMORE.

Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Window Glass Destroyed.

BALTIMORE, April 28.—This city was visited yesterday afternoon between 3:40 and 4 o'clock, by hail of a size and destructive power never before seen in this city. The hail was not like the snow coated hail of commerce, but was plain hard ice, frozen through and through, clear as crystal, and solid as a rock. It went through thick panes of glass as if they were tissue paper, and the amount of damage done by it can only be figured up when all the broken panes are counted, and the glass-setters' bills are paid. The loss will run up into the thousands.

The hailstones were like rocks, some of them ragged and sharp on the edges as a steel blade. Hen's eggs were nothing to them in size. Many of them were as large as a man's fist, and as they came down they sounded like so many cannon balls falling on the helpless earth. The storm came from the west, local in its character, and swept east with a rattle like heavy machinery, frightening people out of their homes, making some of the superstitious think that the day of judgment had come, and hitting those who were on the streets many hard knocks, and driving them into places of shelter.

All over the city the damage was heavy, particularly in the way of broken glass. No glass that met the full force of the hail was strong enough to stand the force of the cobble-stone blocks that came out of the sky. Charles street windows looked as if they had been on the battle-field, and in the houses on Mount Vernon place the damage was considerable and the alarm was unusual.

In the annex, the rain, wind and hail did even more severe damage than in the city. Walls were swept down, houses unroofed and the amount of glass smashed and other damage done was almost incalculable.

A Cyclone in Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 28.—A cyclone, accompanied by a heavy fall of hail, passed from southwest to northeast about five miles southeast of Memphis, Saturday evening, at 6:30 o'clock. Reports coming in show that considerable damage has been done. Several houses were blown down, but no loss of life is reported.

DEAD HEROES.

Fatal Attempt to Rescue a Boy from a Burning Mine.

HANCOCK, Mich., April 28.—At 3 o'clock Sunday morning flames were discovered bursting from shaft No 3 of the North Hancock mine. They were partially extinguished and Capt. Joseph Herbert, John Thomas, John Rowe and Thomas Bell volunteered to go through the smoke that filled the cutting, in search of John Williams, a pump boy.

Bell was the last man to go down. As he reached the ladder he yelled to the others: "Come back, the gas down there is too thick." There was no answer, and it was evident that the two miners had been suffocated. Tying a scarf about his head, John Pentecost, went down alone through gas that extinguished his lamp. He found Thomas with his clothing burned off and his legs frightfully roasted. Rowe was dead and Herbert nearly so, but will probably recover. Thomas will hardly live through the night.

The fire in the lower levels of the mine did not entirely die out until in the afternoon, when Williams' body was found 300 feet from the surface, apparently drowned by the floods of water that were poured in. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the boys entering a gas pocket with a lighted candle, although there are suspicious of incendiarism.

Detroit Wants the Convention.

DETROIT, Mich., April 28.—A project is on foot among leading Democratic politicians here to secure the Democratic National convention in 1892 for Detroit. I. M. Veston, of Detroit, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, is chief mover in the matter, and Dan M. Dickinson's aid is also being counted on.

Death of a Prominent Merchant.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 28.—S. Youngs a wealthy merchant and prominent citizen of Pineville, Mecklenburg county, died at noon yesterday.

The Strike Growing.

Carpenters Determined to Have Eight Hours.

TO BE ENFORCED MAY THE FIRST

The Various Unions United and Prepared to Make a Desperate Struggle—Other Trades That Will Be Affected Should a Strike Take Place—Other Labor News.

BOSTON, April 28.—The Globe publishes an article showing the situation in New England regarding the labor demonstration to take place May 1. It says that Boston and Worcester will be the main battle grounds for this state, in both of which the contest will be for a working day of eight hours.

The greater part of the 3,000 carpenters employed in Boston will strike for eight hours, but they make no demand for an increase in the hour rate of wages. They believe that a decrease in hours will cause an increase in wages, according to the law of supply and demand. The carpenters are so well organized all through New England and even the Canadian provinces, that there is little fear of outside carpenters coming here to take their places.

It is said that in Worcester the painters, plumbers and slaters will ask for nine hours with the same pay they now get for ten hours work.

Norcross Brothers and Darling Brothers have announced that they will adopt nine hours May 1 for carpenters, and their mill hands and other indoor workmen. In nine other cities in this state, the carpenters demand a working day of nine hours. In several cities the plumbers, bricklayers and masons will demand nine hours.

The quarrymen and granite cutters in Quincy will probably strike, as the bosses, while willing to grab the nine hour system, will not agree to the price per hour demanded by the workmen. Strikes are expected among the granite cutters at Westbury, R. I.; Concord, N. H.; and Hallowell, Me. The mechanics at Portsmouth, N. H., and the carpenters at Portland and Lewiston, Me., demand nine hours.

Philadelphia Carpenters.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—At a meeting of the carpenters, delegates representing 1,900 union carpenters, out of a total of about 8,200, were present. Resolutions were adopted pledging themselves "severally and collectively, to maintain the demand for thirty-eight cents an hour, and to insist upon the payment of that sum on and after the first day of May."

In addition to the official action taken by the carpenters as an organization, nearly every employing master carpenter in the city was on Saturday served with a notice from his own men, asking for the increase from thirty to thirty-five cents an hour for nine hours work.

Some of the most prominent builders said that they believed a compromise would be effected, by which the men would be given an increase of three cents an hour, instead of five. Some of the men prominent in the movement said they expected a compromise, and others said they would insist upon the full increase asked for being paid.

Labour Demonstration.

MONTREAL, Que., April 28.—A gigantic labor demonstration took place here Saturday night, in favor of the eight-hour movement. Between 3,000 and 4,000 representatives of the several labor organizations assembled in Chabouille square, and were addressed by their leaders. They were advised to combine to combat capital, which was daily driving the workmen to starvation. Resolutions in favor of eight hours were passed. A strong police force maintained order.

Both Sides Determined.

DETROIT, Mich., April 28.—Committees from the Builders' Exchange and the Brotherhood of the Carpenters and Joiners met yesterday to consult on demands of the carpenters for thirty cents an hour and eight hours a day. The builders agreed to increase wages, but declined to shorten hours. This did not satisfy the carpenters, and the conference ended without result. Both sides seem determined.

Grand Council of Railroad Employees.

TEANECK, Ind., April 28.—Grand Master Sargent and Grand Secretary Debs, the supreme officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen of the United States and Canada, left yesterday for Pittsburgh to attend a meeting of the supreme council of the Federation of Railroad Employees, to consider the grievance of men at that point. This council is made up of the grand officers of the conductors, switchmen, firemen and brakemen.

No Strike in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 28.—At a regular meeting of the Central Labor union yesterday afternoon Delegate Wade, of the organization committee, denied that the Buffalo carpenters were going on a strike the 1st of May. Their contracts, he said, continue until the 1st of June at nine hours, and they wished to continue their contracts.

Packing House Men to Strike.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Fully 1,000 packing house men, by a unanimous vote, decided at a meeting yesterday afternoon to go out on a strike May 1, unless their request for an eight-hour day was complied with.

Eight Hour Parade in New York.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Final arrangements were made yesterday for a great "eight-hour" parade of labor organizations in this city on May 1.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Program of the Meeting of Veterans at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., April 28.—Old war veterans are flocking in from various cities and towns in the state to attend the twenty-fourth annual G. A. R. Encampment that meets in this city on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. It is expected that fully 25,000 of the old veterans will be in attendance and ample arrangements have been made to entertain them in a proper manner. On Tuesday will occur the grand parade, in which at least 20,000 veterans are expected to participate, provided the weather is auspicious. There will be over 100 brass and field bands in the procession.

At Music Hall Tuesday evening, beginning at 7:45 o'clock, a grand welcome will be given the boys in blue, the department of Ohio Grand Army of the Republic, and the Woman's Relief Corps, auxiliary thereto. The exercises will be presided over by Mayor Mashy, who upon behalf of the citizens of Cincinnati will extend a welcome to the veterans. President Lee H. Brooks, of the chamber of commerce, will, on behalf of that association, extend a public invitation to members of the encampment and visitors to the city in attendance upon the reunion to visit the sessions of "clunge during their four days' stay. An elaborate program has been prepared by the committee for this occasion.

Short addresses will also be delivered during the evening by Adj. Gen. George H. Hopkins, Senior Vice Commander Weisert, the department commander of Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and Michigan, the exercises closing with singing by the great chorus, the old veterans and the audience, accompanied by the grand organ and orchestra, of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching."

Col. W. B. Smith, commanding the First regiment, Ohio National guards, has extended an invitation to the members of the encampment to be the guests of the regiment at the big armory, on Freeman avenue, on Wednesday evening.

The public is also invited to this entertainment, which will consist of a grand dress parade by the First regiment, O. N. G., at the conclusion of which the floor will be cleared and the evening devoted to dancing, all being invited to participate.

At the armory an opportunity will be given all comrades to meet and greet the department commander and the many other distinguished guests who will be present.

The general committee are determined that the twenty-fourth annual encampment shall close in a blaze of glory, and to that end have decided to hold a grand love feast and camp-fire at Pike's opera house on Thursday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The newly elected department commander and his staff will be tendered a reception, and the program will consist of short speeches, vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc., in which the department commander and many other prominent G. A. R. men will participate.

The business session of the Woman's Relief Corps, which is an auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, will be held at the Scottish Rite cathedral, on Broadway, between Fourth and Fifth streets, beginning at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

IT SHOULD BE IMITATED.

The Illinois Steel Company Does the Right Thing by Their Employees.

JOLIET, Ill., April 28.—J. C. Sterling, secretary of the Illinois Steel company, of which company the Joliet rolling mill is a part, employing about 2,000 men, addressed the employees Saturday night, submitting a proposition to them which is remarkable, considering the way the world is running on now.

The company will give to each man who stays one year 1 per cent of his wages, and so on up to five years, when 5 per cent of his wages will be added to his pay, thus at the end of five years the company will be giving these employees $60,000 a year. Men entering the company's employ July 1, 1890, are entitled to the benefit. The men received the proposition with unbounded joy. This will settle all likelihood of strikes or quitting of work without giving notice.

Harriman on Time.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 28.—J. S. Harriman, who claims to be the champion pedestrian of the world, arrived in Topeka yesterday afternoon, on his way to San Francisco. He is engaged in walking from his home in Wabash, Ind., to San Francisco, on a wager with Mr. McDonald, of New York, to walk the distance, estimated at 8,000 miles in sixty-five days. He left Wabash April 10, and is up with his scheduled time. He is accompanied by two judges, Fred Gebhard, of Wabash, for himself, and Fred Drummond, of New York, for McDonald.

Scheme to Advance Wheat.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 28.—The Farmers' Alliance has undertaken a gigantic scheme to advance the price of wheat. A large elevator is to be built for the farmers who are members of the alliance, and the wheat is to remain stored until it can be sold at $1 a bushel. In order to tide over the farmers who have their wheat thus stored, a new bank is to be established at St. Joseph, with a capital of $50,000, and the money will be loaned to members at a very low rate of interest. Application will be made for a charter this week.

Started Up After Seven Years.

READING, Pa., April 26.—The large furnace of the Reading Railroad company at Temple, this county, was started up last night after being idle seven years. It is one of the company's best furnaces. The majority of the furnaces of the company are now in operation.

HARD ON HARRISON.

Humorous Remarks About the Administration that Convulsed Members of the House.

Extract From a Short Speech Delivered Last Week by Congressman Allen.

Congressman Allen, of Mississippi, has gained the reputation of being the wit of the House. He made a speech one day last week that is said to have convulsed his auditors with laughter—especially his Democratic hearers. We quote some of his remarks from the Congressional Record. Here is the way he talked:

"I heard the other day of a distinguished Senator from a State whose farmers are now burning their corn [laughter], and it was not Senator Plumb either [laughter], who had said when he went to one of the Departments to get a friend of his appointed to an office out West he was told by the head of the Department that it could not be done; and he asked why. "Well," he says, "the President has a friend in your State that he wants to put in the place." The Senator stopped and scratched his head, and said, "Well, that is all right if he is sure of it; but," he says, "I am pretty well acquainted in that State, and I have a friend in it I do not know him."

"I was coming up the street the other day with a prominent Republican, whom I have known very well in official life, and I said to him, 'How are you getting on with the Administration?' "Oh," said he, "don't ask me that, Allen; don't ask me that. I have reduced my opinion of that business to poetry, and this is it:

"John Wainy runs the Sunday-school,
Levi runs the bar,
The baby runs the White House,
And, damn it, here we are."

[Great laughter.]
I hope the committee will be in order, Mr. Chairman. I want to proceed with my remarks. [Renewed laughter.] Mr. Chairman, this thing is really growing serious. All that I have said so far I will vouch for. [Laughter.]

There is another report going around here that I am not going to vouch for, either; but it is said that one of the leaders of this House on the Republican side, some time ago, in social conversation with a Democratic friend, said to him: "Sit down here and tell me the biggest lie you can think of." The man he said it to is a man who is supposed to have some capacity in that line. [Laughter.] The Democrat sat down by him and began by saying, "Well, sir, Harrison's administration is a great success." "Sir," said the Republican, "you might have studied a whole year and you never could have beaten that." [Great laughter.]

Another prominent Republican told me that this Administration had demonstrated how small a man could hold the office of President; that it was the quintessence of minimalization.

I can not take the time to repeat all the hard things that are said about the President by his party friends. You know it is said that a prominent member of his Cabinet, when asked why he did not raise a row and have things go on better or resign, illustrated his position in the matter by relating an incident. He said that once there was a man who went to a very poor show on a free ticket. When the first act was over it was so bad that everybody began to hiss and hoot except the man with the free ticket. Some one told him that he seemed to be enjoying it. "No," said he, "I do not enjoy it." Then the question was asked why he did not join in the hissing. Said he, "I am in here on a free ticket, and I can not afford to show disrespect; but I am going to sit through one more act, and, if it does not improve I will go out and buy me a ticket and come back, and then I will help you fellows raise Cain."

These things are all very bad, Mr. Chairman, but they come from his own party friends. If they talk and think that way about him how do you suppose the Democrats feel? They are not doing much talking, but they are well satisfied with the results of the elections that are taking place. But candor compels me to admit that I believe the President thinks well of himself. [Laughter and applause.]

This is illustrated in the statement said to have been made by Platt, the boss of New York Republican politics, when asked about his opinion of him. "Sir," says he, "I have no opinion to express, but if you will take his own opinion of himself I will give you that. He thinks Christ's overcoat would not make him a vest." [Laughter.]

Mr. Chairman, I believe I did read the other day in a newspaper that my friend from Iowa [Mr. Henderson], one of the leaders of this House, had said in a speech to some club here in the city, where I suppose he thought it would never get out [laughter], that he endorsed the Administration. But I do not really believe he meant anything of that kind. If he did think it was on the principal of a man I heard of once who swallowed one of these hairy worms on a wager, and after he had swallowed the worm and won the wager, the man who had made the bet with him offered him his money. "Oh," said he, "keep your money; I didn't swallow the worm for money. I just swallowed it to show you what a strong stomach I had." [Great laughter.]

If he did endorse the Administration, it was only to show what a strong stomach he had. Now, Mr. Chairman, having adduced this much Republican testimony, I wish to talk about the workings of the civil-service tendencies of the Post-office Department in my district.

When the canvass was on hand in 1888 it was currently reported that the present Postmaster-General contributed largely to the corruption fund of the campaign, for which he was to be rewarded if the Republicans carried the election.

After the election I remember to have talked to several of you gentlemen on the Republican side of the House, and you were innocent enough to believe in the sincere conscientiousness of the President, and you repudiated the scandal and said John Wainy would not be in the Cabinet, but you were mistaken; the pledge to Mr. Quay and by Mr. Quay had to be kept, and Mr. Wainy, another one of the Lord's anointed, got the price of his contribution, but it was not thought safe to intrust the administration of the Post-office Department to him, as he knew so little about politics; so one of the Executive Committee, one of the efficient co-workers in the campaign; with Messrs. Quay and Dudley, was appointed "lord high executioner" for that Department, and right royally has he performed his task.

Then this civil-service reform Administration gavelled out that the Congressmen would control the patronage in their districts where they were Republican, and where they were not Republican the defeated Republicans were designated as "deputy presidents" for those districts. This plan has been followed except in those cases where the bosses have vetoed the recommendations of the "deputy presidents," or where the members have shown some independence, and there they have been sat down on, and out of this system have grown some of the worst scandals imaginable. In one State where the matter was investigated three of these proxy presidents were caught up with selling their recommendations.

In my own district there have been six postmasters appointed who did not live within the bounds of the office to which they were appointed, and most of this was done on the recommendation of the man who thought he was running against me for Congress two years ago. Now, what sort of a merit system is this, to import and appoint strangers as postmasters? Who is there here who will believe that a district that sends me to Congress has not in every neighborhood a good man or woman for postmaster? [Laughter.] One postoffice was ordered moved a mile and a half away from a town where there were three business houses and a blacksmith shop to where there was no business, and a postmaster appointed who, the records in the Postoffice Department then showed, had been found guilty of fraud on the Department and compelled to pay back money received by the fraud, and all this over my protest.

In the district of my colleague, Mr. Lewis, not twenty miles from where I live, a postoffice was moved a mile and a half out of a flourishing, incorporated town to accommodate a man who turned Republican after the election.

Now, Mr. Chairman, I have given you some of the workings of this prying administration in my section. Sir, I can stand the political buccaneer, the man or politician who admits his badness or makes no pretense of political purity, but, sir, I despise these pious frauds, these men who make broad their phylacteries, wear long faces, occupy the chief seats in the synagogue, and thank God they are not as other men, and then get office by purchase or false pretense, and use it in this way. [Applause on the Democratic side.] Yes, sir; this administration has now in its service two men I know of from my State, and I can make the proof, who are felons and ought to be in the penitentiary now, who were known to be such by parties to whom the administration had committed the dispensation of patronage, when appointed.

Now, Mr. Chairman, I will yield to other gentlemen who wish to speak. [Applause.]

While the Legislature is in the investigating business, it ought to find out, if possible, who owns the penitentiary—the State or the lessees.

It is gratifying to see that there are a few Republican Senators with courage enough to sit down on some of the outrageous schemes of the "pension-grabbers" and "looters of the treasury." Senator Plumb recently wanted all limitations as to arrears removed, making pensions begin from the death or discharge of the soldier, and such Senators as Sherman, Quay, Ingalls, Allison, Manderson and Mitchell voted for the measure, although it was acknowledged that the bill would take the enormous sum of nearly $500,000,000 out of the treasury. But Senators Hawley and Frye bitterly opposed this gigantic scheme. The former said his theory of a pension was that it was to take care of those who are suffering from injuries received in the army, and he declared that Mr. Plumb's bill was simply "a bill to redistribute the wealth of the country." Who will say Mr. Hawley is not right?

The Virtues of the Onion.

A St. Louis drug clerk says: "If I should be asked what was the best substitute for quinine I should say onions. Time and again the sleep-producing virtues of the loud-smelling onion have been sung, but comparatively few know how valuable it is as a cure for chills and ague. Several customers explain their boycott on quinine by saying onions are cheaper and quite as effective, and one man in particular, who has been a martyr to malaria for years, has been another being since he acquired the habit of chewing onion peel. The onion is used frequently to cure rheumatism, with varying success, but I never heard of its failing when persevered in as a cure for malaria or chills."

Waiter—Well! If that darned cod ain't been in swimmin' again!—American Grocer.

Mrs. Teakum Strate—I see that boiling hair in a solution of tea will darken it.
Teakum Strate—So I've heard, my dear, but I prefer to have my tea darkened in some other way.—American Grocer.

Notice to the County Democratic Executive Committee.

The members of the Democratic Executive Committee of Mason County are notified that a meeting of the said committee will be held at the County Clerk's office Saturday, May 3, at 2 p. m.

THOMAS J. CRENOWETH,
Chairman Ex. Com.

Maysville, Ky., April 25, 1890.

A fellow who swallowed a drachm
Of poison grew cold as a clachin,
And when somebody said,
"I don't believe he is dead,"
The corpse quickly shouted "I achin!"

And since then they saw that his ghost
Each night walks round his bed post,
And it seems as all the while
Who aren't used to such folks,
Clear out of their senses almost.

Old Sol will soon in cloudless skies
Shine like a fiery ball,
And there will then be lots of flies
Upon us all.

Announcement.

Editor of the Bulletin: I understand it has often been asked in my announcement as a candidate to represent Mason County in the Constitution convention, I would be so subject to the action of the Democracy of the county. I made the announcement as I did because I had been generally solicited to become a candidate. But I wish it distinctly understood that I am always subject to the action of the Democratic party in the mode and manner they may select.

BALLENGER has a great variety of the latest styles of Queen and Princess chains. If you intend buying jewelry of any kind, you can find just what you want at his store.

INFORMATION comes from Washington City that Kentucky will receive several hundred dollars from the National Government on some pension money orders and other papers found in the safe of James W. Tate, late State Treasurer.

THE case of County Clerk Ball against the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Company is on trial in the Circuit Court. Mr. Ball sues for $5,500 damages to his property on Third street, Fifth ward, caused by the construction of the road.

AMANDA HUMSTON, of Lexington, has sued John Simpson, also of that city, for $10,000 damage for breach of promise of marriage. Simpson has left the county to avoid having summons served on him. He is worth $50,000, and is a member of one of the old and aristocratic families in that section.

MR. GEO. C. BUCKHANAN, the whisky broker of Louisville, has issued a table of statistics of the amount of whisky now in the bonded warehouses, and the estimated production for the remainder of the fiscal year, which closes June 30. The table shows that the production of whisky from July 1, 1889, to March 31, 1890, was 20,014,049 gallons, against 14,651,628 gallons for the corresponding period last year. The total production of last season was 20,130,501 gallons, and the total production of this season is estimated at 34,514,627 gallons, an increase about 9,500,000 gallons.

THE NEW CITY CHARTER.

It Has Passed the State Senate.
Other Legislative Doings of Local Interest.

The State Bank Inspector bill was killed.

Fifty-one new bills were introduced in the House Friday.

The House has rejected the bill to appropriate $250,000 for the completion of the Eddyville prison.

The Senate and House have agreed to a resolution providing for a sine die adjournment at noon on Monday, May 12.

A resolution was adopted allowing the Grand Commandery Knights Templar to meet in the hall of the House in May, 1891.

Among the new bills is one to regulate charges for toll in the State on all turnpike and gravel roads and to require stockholders to pay toll.

A bill has passed the Senate requiring safety gates and a watchman to be kept at the crossing of the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad and the Maysville, Orangeburg and Mt. Carmel Turnpike Road in the town of Chester.

The bill providing a new charter for Maysville has passed the Senate and is pending in the House. It has been changed, and if passed in its present form, most all the city officers will be chosen by a vote of the people.

A bill giving the Governor authority to negotiate with any House of Reform in the State for the confinement therein of any person under sixteen years of age, convicted of crime and sentenced to the penitentiary, has passed the Senate.

In spite of the strong opposition from the mountain members, the bill to compel counties to help support their pauper idiots passed the House. Representatives Frazee and Blackerby voted for it, and Representative Hillis against it. It fixes the allowance at $75 a year, but of this sum each county is to pay $20 a year for each of its pauper idiots.

A bill was passed amending the act establishing the State Board of Equalization. It requires the County Attorney and County Judge to swear to the statement already required from the County Clerk showing the conveyances of real estate, the prices paid, and the assessed value thereof. It also fixes the per cent. of equalized valuation at 70 instead of 69 per cent. of the actual value shown by such statements. The Board is also required to equalize the assessments of personal property as well as of realty.

"A Pair of Jacks."

This new farce-comedy will be produced at the opera house next Thursday night for the first time in this city. Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at Taylor's. It was played at Columbus, O., all last week, and the State Journal of that city says: "A Pair of Jacks," which has made a remarkable hit at the Grand the past week, can be added to the list of big farce-comedy successes. Although it is in only the third week of its existence it has bounded at once into popular favor and creates more genuine laughter and elicits more spontaneous applause than many farce-comedy performances that have acquired finish and compactness by many months' repetitions. An excellent company is a strong factor in the success of the play. 'A Pair of Jacks' is in for a successful career."

Struck It Rich.

"A letter received at the office of the Amador-Lilla yesterday stated that the biggest strike that was ever made in the mine has just been made in the shaft running from the lower level. The ore was found at a depth of 70 feet, or 195 feet from the surface. They have been in ore ever since starting the shaft, and some of it ran 265 ounces silver, but this is said to be much richer. The extent is not known, but it has the appearance of being a permanent thing."

The above is taken from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of April 24th. Several Maysville people are interested in the Amador-Lilla silver mine, having purchased stock through Mr. W. P. Lawre, of St. Louis, a year or so ago. The mine is located in Colorado.

NOTWITHSTANDING the rain Saturday night the Columbus Clock exhibition in a room at the opera house drew a large crowd. It is an unusual entertainment made up of a continuous line of surprises until one is amazed at the mechanical phenomena presented. The great clock stands eighteen feet in height, and operates one hundred different mechanical objects. Not only every man and woman, but every child should be permitted to see it while it is here. It will be exhibited to-day, to-morrow and Wednesday.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c. and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

The next meeting of Ebenezer Presbytery (North) will be held at Frankfort in the fall. At the session in Ashland last week, Rev. W. C. Condit was elected Commissioner to the General Assembly which will convene May 12 at Saratoga, N. Y.

A house erected at Danville in 1789 was torn down the past week. It was originally a log cabin, but had been weatherboarded and plastered. The Advocate says: "Major Barbour, of Maysville, and Prof. L. G. Barbour, of Richmond, one of Danville's pioneer merchants, lived in the house sixty years ago. Probably some member of that family might be able to trace this old residence back to the hardy pioneer who built it here in the heart of the dark and bloody hunting grounds."

A PROMINENT merchant of Clay County is reported as saying that he would be willing to take an oath that fully one-half the alleged pauper idiots in that county were able-bodied and more than earning their own support. The Auditor's report shows there were twenty-six of these paupers in Clay County last year and that they drew out of the Treasury in 1888 $9 nearly $2,200. Their names are on record, and it ought to be an easy matter for the State authorities to ascertain whether there is any truth in statements of the merchant referred to above.

ONE of the largest crowds that has been seen at the Christian Church for a long while was present last evening to hear Dr. Thayer's closing words as pastor. Among the auditors were many from the other denominations of the city. Rev. B. W. Mebane, of the Central Presbyterian Church, who, with most of his parishioners, was present, led in prayer, making in earnest and touching invocation to the Most High. Dr. Thayer's sermon, from the words, "They sang a hymn and went out," was one of the strongest and most eloquent he delivered during his pastorate. The best wishes of the many warm friends they made while here go with the Doctor and his wife to their new home at Newcastle, Pa.

Mr. Campbell Not Assistant Enrolling Clerk.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Times says: "An injustice has been done Mr. H. L. Godsey, the Assistant Enrolling Clerk of the House of Representatives, in the reports of the blood-and-thunder correspondence between Mr. W. P. Campbell and Mr. T. A. Davis, of Maysville. The reports have nearly all referred to Mr. Campbell as the Assistant Enrolling Clerk of the House, and some papers have referred to the challenge as being sent by the Assistant Enrolling Clerk, without calling his name. As a matter of fact, Mr. Campbell does not hold that office, never has held it and has no connection whatever with it. Mr. Godsey, who does occupy that position, and who is a most peaceable young gentleman, has, by reason of this error, been unjustly associated by some with the affair. The State, too, gains no credit from the report that an officer of the General Assembly is allowed to send a challenge to fight a duel, and do other horrid and bloody things."

If we mistake not the clever gentleman who penned the above is one of the very fellows who sent abroad the "blood-and-thunder" challenge. His duties as Legislative correspondent of the Times places him in a position where he ought to have been thoroughly posted on Mr. Campbell's connection with the House.

The First of May.

How It Will Be Observed Over the Ocean.

NO TROUBLE FEARED IN LONDON.

But in Several Other Places Grave Fears Are Felt That Serious Riots Will Occur Between the Working People and the Authorities—Various Other Foreign News.

LONDON, April 28.—Numerous meetings were held yesterday by labor organizations at which the great event in the labor world—the advent of the momentous 1st of May, 1890—was discussed, and plans finally settled for next Sunday's demonstrations. The men in all trades seem to be confident of the success of the movement for shorter hours, and they are certainly enthusiastic enough to indicate that their confidence is not assumed.

The chief features of next Sunday's program will be a number of imposing processions of members of the various trades, and subsequent monster mass meetings. The police profess not to be at all afraid of any disturbance, but they are very properly taking every precaution that that experience or foresight can suggest to guard against any accident or untoward incident which might provoke trouble. The general disposition on the part of the authorities is to give free rein to the people in the matter of lawful assemblage and movement through the streets, and not interfere unless it becomes absolutely necessary to do so.

It is to be regretted that according to advices from other capitals, the authorities of the continental countries seem to take a different view of their duties, and are inclined to place restrictions upon the people which may prove so irritating as to cause disorder, where otherwise everything would pass off peacefully. There is no denying that the general feeling throughout Europe is one of uneasiness and apprehension, and everybody wishes the first of May were past.

The Irish railway strike situation is becoming worse rather than better. Labor disturbances in Ireland, like social disorders in that country, seem to assume a more bitter aspect than similar affairs in other countries, and it is not improbable that serious trouble will occur before the present difficulty is settled. The railway directors have determined to take advantage of the legal rights possessed by them, and have begun prosecutions against the signal men who left the companies' employ without the formal notice required by law, and there is little doubt that the men will be made to suffer severely by their hasty action.

Mails Delayed by Strikes.

LONDON, April 28.—The American mail train was one hour late in reaching Queenstown yesterday. Several railway directors and seven clerks from the Dublin offices of the railway managed the train and had charge of the mail. The clerks carried the mail aboard the Umbria, the regular employees for that purpose having joined the strikers. The Umbria was but very slightly delayed in sailing. The American Irish mail from the Servia was then taken aboard the same train and brought to Dublin. The Servia's English and Scotch mails were kept aboard the steamer until she reached Liverpool.

Michael Davitt, in an address to the strikers yesterday in Phoenix park, advised them to submit their grievances to arbitration. He condemned the action of the signal men in quitting work without giving notice and without affording opportunity for negotiations.

Elections in Paris.

PARIS, April 28.—The municipal elections yesterday passed off quietly. The police defused the placards which represented the candidacy of Gen. Boulanger and the Duc d'Orleans.

Twelve Republicans were elected. Fifty-nine ballots will be necessary. Of these, the voting yesterday favored the Republicans in forty-two cases, the Boulangists in thirteen cases and the Conservatives in four cases.

In the rebalancing for member of the chamber of deputies from the department of Corveze Sunday M. Delabass, Republican, was elected. His opponent was the Boulangist who was successful in the first balloting, but whose election was quashed.

Military Maneuvers.

BERLIN, April 28.—Elaborate preparations are being made by the German military authorities for the annual maneuvers, which this year begin on the 8th and extend until the 23d of May. The emperor takes a great interest in these tests of the condition of his army, and has not allowed his dallying with social and economic questions to interfere in the slightest with the exercise of his ruling passion—that of military activity.

Getting Posted on Labor Matters.

BERLIN, April 28.—A party of 500 Italian mechanics will visit Berlin in June to inspect the operations there of the various trades in which they are interested. This unusual movement is the outcome of the recently introduced system of cheap excursions on the German and Austrian railways.

Emperor William and Queen Victoria.

DARMSTADT, April 28.—The Emperor William passed the day with Queen Victoria. The queen received during the day a deputation from the German dragoons, of whom she is honorary officer.

International Prison Congress.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—The international prison congress opens here on the 15th of June. Three hundred delegates, representing twenty-five states, are expected to attend.

Women's Work in Germany.

BERLIN, April 28.—The National Zeitung states that the government's labor bill fixes the maximum duration of women's work at eleven hours a day.

FLAT HOUSE ON FIRE.

Twelve Families Have a Narrow Escape from Death.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Fire in the five-story flat house, 2560 Eighth avenue, early this morning caused a panic among the twelve families occupying the building, whose escape by the stairway was cut off by the flames. Some escaped by way of the roof, the others became blockaded on a defective fire escape. Daniel Rossler, one of the latter, obtained a rope and lowered the women and children by it to the street.

The men then climbed down the same way. Rossler was the last, and by this time the rope was worn away and broke, letting Rossler fall to the pavement, but he was not badly hurt. But for his coolness and presence of mind several lives might have been lost. The building was damaged to the extent of $30,000.

Death of a Republican Leader.

NEW YORK, April 28.—John J. O'Brien, the noted Republican leader in the Eighth assembly district, died yesterday at Coney Island, where he has been ill for some time past. Though Mr. O'Brien had been a power in local, and, indirectly, in state and National politics for many years, the only office of consequence that he had held was chief of the bureau of elections. He was a native of this city, and was 48 years of age.

Foul Play Feared.

WATERBURY, Conn., April 28.—The body of a woman, 35 years old, was found this morning near the edge of a small pond on the farm of Hobart Weston, in the suburbs of Waterbury. The body was swollen, and the features distorted beyond recognition. The medical examiner says the woman has been dead a month. Foul play is feared.

Killed His Companions.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., April 28.—John L. Morris, of Platteau county, while traveling in Greer county, killed his two companions, W. E. Roberts and John Mews, Thursday night while all were in camp. The shots were fired from a six shooter, both parties being shot through the head from behind as they slept. Morris buried the bodies in a sand bank.

PRICES CURRENT.

Review of the Stock, Money and Cattle Markets for April 26.

Money closed offered at 4 per cent., which was the only rate of the day. There were no transactions recorded. Currency sixes, 116 bid; four coupon, 122 bid; four and a half do, 103 bid.

The stock market was very active this morning, the volume of business in the two hours to noon being the largest for several months. The sales aggregated 217,147 shares. The dealings were well distributed, but most trading was in the Sugar Trusts, St. Paul, Lackawanna, Erie, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island and Union Pacific. The tone of speculation was strong throughout for almost the entire list. The bank statement published shortly after 1 o'clock, showing an increase in the reserves of $208,771, helped materially to strengthen the market, and prices closed at 1 1/4 per cent. higher than those of yesterday.

New Goods! New Store!

Having disposed of all my stock of goods damaged by late fire, I am now able to announce to the public that I will on Thursday, the 27th inst., open up in my elegant new store room on the N. W. corner of Market and Third streets, in Mayville, Ky., a new and complete stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Canned Goods, &c., &c. I feel that I am at last able to supply to the people of Mayville and vicinity what they have long needed—a first-class grocery in every respect. I do not propose to quote prices on a few articles less than cost in order to get you to come to my house so I can have a chance to over-charge you on some other article, but by dealing with you fairly and giving you good goods at fair living profits, I shall expect to merit a liberal share of the patronage of the public.

Everybody is invited to call, and a special invitation is extended to the ladies. Country people are invited to bring all their produce to me and make my house their headquarters while in the city.

R. B. LOVELL.

A New Departure!

Having determined to close up our outstanding business, we will, from this date, offer our entire stock, consisting of

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES,

BOOTS AND SHOES,

and in fact everything generally kept in a country store, at rock-bottom prices strictly for the CASH or in exchange for country produce. All persons knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned either by note or account are hereby notified to come forward at once and settle the same. Respectfully,
